You must OWN securities such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, etc., to be ELIGIBLE for a Stock Loan.

The leading indicators when determining the eligibility of a stock as collateral are going to be exchange, volatility, share price, liquidity, trends, filings, short term trading volume and long term trading volume. The most attractive interest rates and terms and conditions are available to those stocks with good strong and steady volume and price, and low volatility.

This is solely for the purpose of receiving an indication of loan terms. This is not an offer to buy or sell securities.
